OPTICARE[®]

MILK

Opticare Milk is a milk replacer for piglets and can be used as a supplement to sow's milk. The product helps a sow raise her own piglets, thus significantly reducing the use of foster sows. Opticare Milk compensates nutrient deficiencies in case of insufficient milk supply and contributes to training the digestive tract of piglets. Opticare Milk can be given from two days after birth.

Opticare Milk's high nutrient density provides piglets with all necessary nutrients. This compensates for the lack of nutrients when the sow's milk production is low. The result is more piglets weaned from the sow, less use of foster sows and heavier, healthier and more uniform piglets at weaning.

Stimulate intestinal development

An optimal combination of milk components and plant sources trains grain and soy digestion. This stimulates gut development resulting in a smoother weaning process through better connection between milk and dry feed.

Opticare Milk contains coconut fat. This easily digestible energy source ensures a higher growth rate due to good antibacterial properties and improves the intestinal health of piglets. This reduces mortality at weaning.

Easily and quickly soluble in water

In Opticare Milk, high-quality milk products are processed in the most optimal conditions. As a result, the digestibility of milk protein, fat and lactose remains as high as ever, and the taste characteristics are preserved. Naturally, this leads to improved performance of the piglets.

Opticare Milk is easily and quickly soluble (150-200 g/litre) in water (50-55°C). By adding a special acid mix, the pH value remains stable, resulting in a long-lasting, tasty and fresh product.

The product was specially developed for the Swinco Big Litter Concept in which the Opticare Automix cup system is central, but can also be used in other piglet rearing systems with milk cups, round feeding troughs or valve systems.
